

PRIVACY POLICY

VERSION 1.0

1. Consent

1.1. By applying for a domain name, Registrant affirms that:

- a. Registrant has read and understood this privacy policy;
- b. Registrant understands that The Registrar requests the information for the proper operation of the Registrar; and
- c. Registrant agrees to the collection, use and disclosure of his personal information as described herein.

1.2. Registrant may withdraw consent for the further use of his information at any time. However, if the information in question is that which must be collected in order to register a domain name, withdrawing consent will lead to the change of ownership to INTRACOMME if domain transfer out is not initiated within 5 days.

2. Collection of Personal Information

2.1. The Registrar will limit the amount of information collected to be as little as possible, and solely to the extent necessary for The Registrar to carry out its Registrar operations in the implementation, execution and enforcement of the applicable registry policies, rules and procedures.

2.2. Information may be gathered by The Registrar when an entity, whether a natural person or legal person, interacts with The Registrar or with its partners (e.g. Resellers). This includes the collection of registration data including all WHOIS information including, but not limited to name, postal address, telephone number and where available fax number, email address, & DNS as well as ip address of access etc. Registration data is collected through The Registrar and submitted into The Registry's database.

3. Disclosure of Personal Information

3.1. The Registry will not use personal information for marketing purposes and will not disclose the information to other parties except:

- a. to Government authorities with valid requirements and authority;
- b. to Law enforcement agency, court of competent Jurisdiction, or any other judicial body of competent jurisdiction in response to court order, legal processes as required if the domain name is subject to a proceeding under the The Universal Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy (UDRP);
- c. to service providers in connection with Registry Operation;

- d. to auditors, who are bound by contract and by professional rules to maintain confidentiality and return all documents.
 - e. for the publishing domain name information via WHOIS.
- 3.2. Part of the information collected from a Registrant will be disclosed via the WHOIS system both via the registrar WHOIS portal and port 43 requests. Details of the information that will be shown under WHOIS are documented in the WHOIS policy.
- 3.3. All contractor and partners are contractually bound from using the information collected for any other purposes not allowed by The Registrar.

4. Protection

- 4.1. It is important that the information maintained by The Registrar on behalf of Registrants is accurate, protected from interference by other parties, and treated in confidence by as few personnel as necessary. The Registrar will use appropriate secured encryption systems when collecting information over the Internet to prevent eavesdropping. The information will be maintained behind state of the art infrastructure (such as firewall, antivirus protection and other security systems) to prevent information leakage and damage from hacking.
- 4.2. The Registrar will also perform data backup regularly to prevent potential damage or loss of personal information. The Registrar trains staff, and hires only responsible and capable contractors to manage appropriate systems.
- 4.3. All contractors and partners are contractually bound to protect the information.
