

Data Privacy Policy

Please read the important information below about our policy in dealing with your personal information. If you access the AGIT Registry site you will be deemed to have accepted the Privacy Policy and our use of your personal information in accordance with its terms. If you do not accept these terms, immediately stop using the Site.

Privacy Policy

The AGIT Registry is the registry platform designed to facilitate the registration and checking of financial interests in mobile equipment, including aircraft, and to assist in determining the order of priority of interests.

The AGIT Registry web site is managed by the Asia Green IT Systems Ltd. Şti. In this Privacy Policy the "Registrar" means Asia Green IT Systems Ltd. Şti, Unit 195, Floor 17, Block D, Nish Istanbul, Istanbul 34196, Turkey.

The Registrar is committed to protecting the privacy of users of the AGIT Registry.

In connection with your use of the AGIT Registry, The Registrar and other persons to whom any aspect of the operation of the AGIT Registry is contracted out (together "we") need to store and process limited information about you. This Privacy Policy explains how we use your information in connection with the AGIT Registry and the procedures that we have in place to safeguard your privacy.

In relation to any information we collect about you we will comply with the standards required by the laws of the Republic of Turkey. On the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data and the free movement of such data and any applicable local legal requirements regarding data privacy in the territories in which we operate ("applicable data privacy law").

THE INFORMATION WE COLLECT AND HOW WE USE IT

We collect and store certain information about you, including your name, home address and telephone number, email address, your employer, work address and telephone number, details of any trade body to which you belong and your AGIT Registry user I.D. and password and other information provided by you on registration. We may also publish that information (with the exception of credit card details, your user I.D. and password) on the AGIT Registry website.

We will use this information to facilitate the operation of the AGIT Registry (including registering you as a user, issuing you with a user I.D. and password and validating your identity).

From time to time we may request information from customers via surveys. Participation in these surveys is voluntary and the user therefore has a choice whether or not to disclose this information.

Survey information will be used for the purposes of monitoring or improving the use of and satisfaction with the AGIT Registry website, and improving our customer service and product offerings.

We may use aggregate information and statistics for the purposes of monitoring use of the AGIT Registry in order to help us maintain and develop it. This aggregate information will not include information that can be used to identify any individual or undertaking but we may provide it to third parties.

We may also collect and store other information which you provide to us from time to time through the AGIT Registry, including our records of messages posted by you through the website and the contents of those messages. We will be able to view all messages transmitted through the AGIT Registry for the purposes of internal management analysis. Because of the nature of the AGIT Registry, the information available to us will include the identities of the senders and recipients of such messages, but it is not the purpose of such access to monitor the activities of individual users. By using the AGIT Registry you consent to the use of this information in this way by us. We may monitor or keep a record of the communications made on the AGIT Registry to establish facts, ensure compliance with applicable regulatory practices and our internal policies, demonstrate standards that should be achieved (for example relating to quality control and, training), prevent crime, investigate the unauthorised use of the AGIT Registry and/or our telecommunications systems, secure effective operation of the AGIT Registry and any related systems, and to establish the nature of communications made on the AGIT Registry (for example whether they are business or personal communications). We shall not use data which identifies any individual user or undertaking for training or demonstration purposes.

Where your employer is a subsidiary within a group of companies, we may disclose information relating to business conducted through the AGIT Registry by you on behalf of your employer (which information may identify you as the sender and recipient of the relevant messages) to the parent company of your employer's group. We may release information relating to you if required to do so by order of law. We also reserve the right to disclose the information we have collected about you to our professional advisers and to any assignee of our rights (on the basis that such assignees use such information only for the purposes of the operation of the AGIT Registry). If you do not consent to the information you submit to us being used on the AGIT Registry as described in this Privacy Policy, you will not be able to participate in the AGIT Registry.

HOW WE PROTECT YOUR INFORMATION

For the purposes of data privacy, the Registrar is the data controller of the personal information processed in relation to the AGIT Registry.

The AGIT Registry will be hosted on a server operated by the Registrar or by a third party on its behalf. The AGIT Registry server is currently located in secure premises in Ireland. Your personal data will be processed by the Registrar (or any other third party to whom we may outsource the hosting or operation of the AGIT Registry website) in accordance with applicable data privacy law. The server will not be relocated to a country which does not provide a similar level of legal protection for personal data without your being notified first.

We will take appropriate measures including the introduction of IT security and operational measures to protect the information on the AGIT Registry website. The AGIT may only be accessed via the public internet using, in certain cases, a unique user I.D. and password. We will take steps to restrict the information which is available to users of the AGIT Registry so far as practicable to that which is necessary for their involvement in the AGIT Registry.

We have installed a system to ensure that communications between the AGIT Registry and its users travel along an encrypted connection, commonly referred to as SSL, that uses digital server identities to help ensure that information you provide is passed only to the AGIT Registry.

When you transmit information to the AGIT Registry, your browser will be provided with a digital certificate confirming that you have accessed our website and communications between you and the AGIT Registry will be encrypted. Firewalls are used to attempt to block unauthorised traffic to the servers and databases and the actual servers are located in a secure location which can be accessed only by authorised personnel.

We also take appropriate measures to keep your information confidential. The Registrar's internal procedures cover the storage, access and disclosure of your information. Where appropriate, please remember to log out of the AGIT Registry when not using it to prevent unauthorised access.

YOUR RIGHTS

You have the right to object at any time to the use of your personal data on the AGIT Registry and to ask us to stop using it, although this may prevent you from participating further in, or benefiting from the AGIT Registry. However, your personal data will continue to be used by us for the purposes of maintaining an audit trail. You also have the right to access the information held about you by us and to have this information amended if incorrect. You are entitled to receive a copy of this Privacy Policy.

CHANGES TO THIS PRIVACY POLICY

This Privacy Policy may be changed by the Registrar. The revised Privacy Policy will be posted to this page so that you are aware of the information we collect, how we use it and under what circumstances we may disclose it.

COOKIE POLICY

A cookie is a small data file which is sent from a web server to a web browser when that browser visits the server's site. Cookies, by themselves, do not tell us your email address or other personal information unless you choose to provide this information to us by, for example, registering at the AGIT Registry website. Once you choose to provide a web page with personal information, that information may be linked to the data stored in the cookie. A cookie is like an identification card. It is unique to your computer and can only be read by the server that gave it to you. Cookies are used to collect information about your use of the AGIT Registry website and their use helps to ensure that the information provided to you by the AGIT Registry is relevant to you and up to date. Cookies are an essential part of the website navigation. By using the AGIT Registry website you are agreeing to cookies being stored on your web browser.
